Application
AEJMC NEWPAPER AND ONLINE NEWS DIVISION
RESEARCH GRANT FOR FACULTY
Academic year 2017-2018

Deadline: 11:59 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time, Sunday, July 30, 2017
Late applications will not be accepted.

Submit via email to nondgrants@gmail.com
You must be a member of the Newspaper and Online News Division as of July 30, 2017, to be eligible to receive the research grant.

Name:
Academic position (full professor, adjunct faculty, Ph.D. student, etc.):
Department and school affiliation:
School mailing address:
Campus phone:
Summer mailing address:
Summer phone:
Email:
Research project title:

Project details

Please answer each of the questions below, limiting your answers to no more than four single-spaced pages, including this one, in type that is 11 points tall or larger.

1. What is the objective of the research?

2. How does the planned research relate to newspapers or online news?

3. Why is the research important?

4. What theoretical basis, conceptual framework, or previous research is the study based on?

5. What method or methods will be used? Please describe these in detail.

6. What work related to this research, if any, has been accomplished already, such as writing a literature review, conducting a pilot study, locating archives, or doing related research?

7. How would you use the grant money? Please provide a detailed budget that is as specific as possible. If, for example, you plan to use the grant for traveling to an archive, please explain what portion of the money would be used on gas and tolls, hotel, copying expenses, etc. If you plan to use the grant to pay a research assistant, please explain specifically what work that assistant would do.

8. What other grant support, if any, have you obtained or applied for related to this specific project? Please include both internal funding awarded by your school and external funding provided by an outside organization.

9. Where do you intend to submit for presentation or publication work produced from this research?

If you have questions about this application, please email nondgrants@gmail.com.