

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Journalism & Mass Communication Teacher of the Year Award

Sponsored by the Scripps Howard Foundation and AEJMC

PRIZE: $10,000 and a distinctive trophy

ELIGIBILITY:

Full-time faculty member teaching in a journalism and mass communication program who, over a period of years, has consistently demonstrated an environment of excellence by ongoing contributions to the improvement of student learning. Nominees may teach in any of the disciplines of journalism and mass communication. Open to accredited and non-accredited schools.

CRITERIA:

The judges will consider the following criteria when evaluating nominees:

- Innovative teaching practices
- Influences on curriculum
- Mentoring and advising students in matters of both career and curriculum
- Mentoring faculty in regard to instruction
- Scholarship in respect to teaching
- Leadership in educational activities in department, school, university, and/or academy
- On-going industry engagement inside and outside the classroom

HOW TO NOMINATE:

1. Unit heads must submit the nomination from his/her program. Only one nominee from each school is allowed. Selection process at each school's discretion.
2. Nomination consists of a one- to two-page letter by the unit head that provides specific examples of the nominee's merit based upon the seven criteria, and a full curriculum vitae of the nominee. Attach the nomination form below to these two items.

DEADLINE: Received by 5 p.m. Eastern on Wednesday, Oct. 14, 2015. Submit via email to Jennifer@aejmc.org. QUESTIONS: Jennifer McGill, AEJMC, 803-798-0271; or Sue Porter, Scripps Howard Foundation, 513-977-3030.

2015 TEACHER OF THE YEAR NOMINATION FORM

Name of Nominee: _____

Unit and University: _____

Nominee's email: _____

Nominee's office phone: _____

NOMINATED BY: _____ DATE: _____

(signed)